MADELEINE ALBRIGHT

November 20, 2008

Dear Right Honorable Kim Campbell:

I regret that I could not be with you in person to join in the cheering as your many accomplishments are recognized tonight by the Churchill Society.

It is altogether fitting that you should receive the Society's silver anniversary award for excellence in the cause of parliamentary democracy. Throughout your amazing career, you have been a leader in support of equal opportunity, social justice, human rights, and the rule of law. You know democracy works, because you have seen it make an enormous difference in your life, and in that of millions of others in Canada and across the globe. While in government service, and as a world leader, you have fought to bring out the best in our systems of governance and in ourselves.

Tonight, I hope you will relax and take a bow. Tomorrow, I am sure you will be back at work, for that is your nature and it is why the Churchill Society has chosen so justly to honor you this evening. It is also why I wish for you many more years of personal and professional success.

Sincerely and with deepest respect,

Uloquiu Olbury Madeleine K. Albright
